This sounds more like he just got a torrent and is trying to get his way online.

I would say just call your parents and have them give you the cd-key over the phone but I'm guessing that isn't an option for you.....

All games that use a cd key have checkers to see if its been used. All the key you get from a torrent will have been used by the other 400 people who downloaded the same one and the server blocks that key from being used online.

It's a five dollar game, just buy a copy and stop trying to use downloaded games to get online.
