Personally, if I can get my little opinion in here, I think this all is incredibly dumb.

I really don't want to take sides but Crimson is the admin of the forums, and honestly she can do whatever the fuck she wants.

You guys are making this into a giant (Retarded, too) Soap Opera. Think about all this for a minute. It's a forum, on the internet. What you say on the internet carries little if not no heed (or at least SHOULDN'T) in anyone else's daily lives. The internet is NOT serious business.

I read this thread, and the other megahuge 19 page thread flame fest, and I really think it's just stupid. If crimson banned fl00d3d, she had a really good reason to do it (and actually if you read the first page you'll see that.) I'm sure you've heard this before but this time listen- If you don't like the way the forum is being done, then leave. Delete the bookmark from your folders, or block the page from your internet browser and forget about it. All you're doing is causing a ruckus.

If you wish... carry on. I'm done with my rant.
