Lately, I have been playing on Gamespy for a number of reasons:

I am unable to negotiate most ports in WOL, my clan is international, and the Brits have a laggy experience using WOL USA servers, so we all use GS.

I have to tell you this right now, that WOL players are on the whole, far far superior to GS players.

Don't get me wrong, the other stereotype is also true- WOL players are largely shameless point whores,(play a game of Hourglass and tell me Im wrong) concerned with their ladder to the point you will see empty APCs driving off with a group of engies running after it, and snipers shooting tanks for points while their base goes down.

Despite that however, I feel there really is no comparison as far as the level of gameplay goes. I will remain on GS largely for my clan's sake, but for genuinely challenging games, you have to go to EA. Sorry.
