I get a lot of Private msgs. And emails asking me to help people with problems they are having with there maps, people from this forum and others, not that it matters where they are coming from, but I noticed that some of these people seem to have a similar problem. Map is way too big. Here lately I ran across someone that for weeks, or months this person was trying to figure it out, workable, so try keeping your maps within this limit or smaller and you should be ok.

Just thought I'd pass this on.
