Anyway, can I lock this topic yet?

My parents had thought about having me take an IQ test, but they never did. I really wish they would have. They knew I was a brilliant mind, but now I have no real way to prove it other than from some BS online IQ test.

For those of you bitching about me doing the "well my IQ is higher" is because the moron said he took a test and got a 104, thinking that means anything. I just had to shove the same arrogance down his throat. Go it? Good.

Edit: Oh, lock away!
