35000 tickets for a 360...

With Dave's point gaining rate, that's 640 points in an hour. That's 54.6875 hours of playing. If you spread out the play time over a time period, say 30 days, that's a lil more than 1.82 hours per day for 30 days.

But therein lies the patience problem... I think I'll check out a few games to see how much patience I have.

Well, with chickster and anagrammer.com, 20 points per game comes quickly. Trouble is, thats 1750 games I need for the 360... I had a friend try do login to my account and do puzzles at the same time, although they said it earned him 0 points. Any other games give you more points per game?
