polls like these will always end up in a "popularity contest". It's all a matter of voting for whom you trust and know.

finally someone apart from me smart enough to relize it...like I said, they will vote for basically anyone just because of the fact they can, hence why I think this vote doesnt even matter because no one on that list is a 100% match

Do you know someone who WOULD BE a 100% match? Now don't tell me you would be the only 100% match, because, no you would not.
And I'm sure that for at least some people I wouldn't be a 100% match either. Just because they either preffer someone else, or think I'm biased because of the BI server size.
