I was playing on UnRules New Maps server and its fun. i like the maps. but one day a few months maybe a year ago i was shooting a stealth tank with a havoc. he said i was stealth hacking even though he was right there and he just went invis. he never even moved... so then i got banned. then i got onto another account and rejoined new maps. i got banned once more even though i was running rg. then i explained my case to unrules forums. they denied me as well. so i am now banned from the forums as well. so i came here to tell people my story and to hopefully get unbanned for the offenses i never made. so please, if any of you could help me out, it would be greatly appreciated. please go to www.unrules.com and try to explain to them what i havent done, or maybe just get me unbanned from the forums so i can talk to them. i would greatly apprediate it. thank you.
