IRC is a protocol for how IRC clients and servers should talk to each other.
mIRC is an client that can connect to an IRC server, by the IRC protocol.

Ontopic:

The default settings in BRenBot for mIRC are fine, the only two things you need to change are the BotName= and IrcChannel= settings, and it will connect to the n00stories IRC by default.

^^ did you do that already?

If you did and it doesnt work, please check if you have the channelk names right (with the # in front). Also, botname MUST be unique, else it can't connect.
