If you can't speak English you shouldn't be in our country, plain and simple. It's a required skill that you need to communicate with others in our country.

yeah fuck all the holiday makers who bring shit loads of money into your country...

Theres a difference between living in our country and vacationing in it you twit.

hehehe just the reply I was wanting.

In your original statement you made no such differences between the 2 situations mainly through rushing (at a guess) and not being able to see what a phrase can elude too.

The same can be said with legislative material (laws) if they are not properly thought through of all situations things can be taken to mean other things, much like the the topic on which this thread is based.

Except I'm not a politician. So keep your tangents to yourself please. You knew very well what I meant by that statement. Do you know how I know that? Because you said yourself what kind of reply you were waiting for.
