Subject: Wireless Routing
Posted by Chuck Norris on Thu, 26 Jul 2007 21:01:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Yeah, so we're getting a wireless router soon, and I was wondering what kind of negative effects, if any, this can have. I've heard it can cut out alot, and that it can be especially bad for gaming and downloading. All 3 computers connected will be on the same floor and the three computers will be within about 30 feet or so of the router.

Does anyone have experience with wireless? Better yet, does anyone have experience with wired and wireless? What's it like? Are the dropouts in connection frequent or is it really no big problem?