
Subject: Re: Disneyland Resort and Outside Bottled Water
Posted by Oblivion165 on Mon, 06 Aug 2007 06:14:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I've seen all the kids that liked to drink all the time grow up, I went to school with them..Now they ring up my gas at Texaco.

"Oh hey John, wanna let me "hold" 5" <- Yes quotes within quotes. Also time seems to have stopped for these people. They always talk about stuff l/they did in high school like it's the only thing they have thought about for the last 3 years.

Best thing to do is stay off the stuff, go to college and wait until you've made it in the world before you start trying to kill off ol'liver and smoking up the doob's.

I hate to see people go that way. Including you. It will always amaze me that people willingly force themselves to become ditch diggers

One last thing - To see what I mean talk to this guy Idjit626 on AIM...it's scared straight in its greatest form.

EDIT in accordance to your edit: It very well can if I was in any kind of proximity to you or if you drive that way.
