Sniper don't feel alone. I'm for the war too.

As far as being the only Republican you'd probably most easily define me as a Republican but I think I might be farther right than the current US Republican party.

Also nikki I'm very lucky that I go to a university that isn't politically active at ALL. I would get in some major trouble if it was. lol It was hard enough being the only non diabolical-liberal in my Honors Western Civ Seminar class. Imagine that too, they weren't just the regular college dumbasses, they were the elite college dumbasses. The ones who when he asked if they came from a suburb they said "oh god no I would NEVAR live in a suburb" and were like scoffing so much I thought they wouldn't have time to breathe. They managed to squeeze in breathing at some point though because they never did die. Anyhow the teachers like "So you live on a farm then?" "Well no..." "Oh so you live in a highrise apartment building?" "No I don't" "Then you live in the suburbs!" He was terrorizing them with the fact that they were like everybody else.

So yeah, Conservative-lyfe yo.
