.....

The way i look at the war in Iraq is this:

1. We are losing a lot of good men and wemen over there.

2. We are in a stalemate.

3. if we pull out of over there, the insurgenest will then realize that they won, and start planning to bomb us again.

(or does no one here remember 9/11, big planes into the world trade center, and the pentagon??)

no win situation. but the worst of two evils is pulling out, and then getting hit by a nuke.
