I agree with Mathk1ll here, however, Nameme99 hardly does work for AR let alone the other two mods he runs (Tiberian Wars - Renegade & Generals - Renegade) which has pretty much stopped because he's working for AR.

In the last two months the most he has done for AR is criticize other peoples work. Weather this be positive or negative he still doesn't have anything to show, after countless times of being told "Nameme, work on the harrier" he still offers his mind at engine experiment which is what we got BogdanV for or another field which we have another member to specialize in. I remember back in the old days of blazemods and source when he tried to take over my job of doing the internals, and we used to hate each other to the guts.

IMO, to any future mod devs out there. If you can't work, don't work. Also, do you research. See if there's already something out there you can use for free. Makes it easier and better on the individual and the team.

If you want to help out with the current mod team, show them some work of what you can do. If not, don't.
