ok i have a myspace but the problem is i have so many pictures posted on the page that my freinds say they pc freezes or it takes them forever to load my page and im asking becuase i think iv seen this before is there a html code that shows text and when u click on it it EXSPANDS not takes u to a website just expanded to the picture and then loads it? so its still on the page and dont have to take you to a new site you just click on text then picture expanded underit and loads the pic

please and ty
