Well I'm try OpenSUSE 10.2 now since my uncle brought me a acient toshiba tecra to look at, it had like 8mb video card and ran all the graphics and cool 3d things here and there at full speed, it loaded in like 10 seconds to, so if a laptop from like 10 years ago runs SUSE 10.2.....so can my hp zv5000....plus it's got a cool lizard logo!

The main reason I want to switch is because

1. wine can run most games fully, and if it runs all the games i play fully, then i will install over windows XP, plus linux can use compiz which looks awsome.
