neo1973in order to fix your problem try this: (Windows XP)

- 1) go to your windows folder on the c: (Your Hard drive)
- 2)find the system32 folder in the windows folder
- 3)Open it and enter the Drivers folder
- 4)In the drivers folder enter the etc folder
- 5)when your in the etc folder thier should be 2 files with the same name, one is hosts which is a icalender file and the other one is Hosts (The file we are are looking for is the Capitalized HOSTS).
- 6)open Hosts with a notepad
- 7)look for this entry: 81.68.220.36 #servserv.westwood.com
- 8)the entry should look like that in order for you to be able to log in.

Have fun!!!!

Sorry, I got same problem but your trick doesn't work ...
