Map-Stealing loooooooooool sry but lol, lol and lol again.

As Yrr said "it will always be YOUR map". We are a small community and we notice quickly when somebody "steals" a map. The only condition for that process is that you show RenCom your map (here in this forums, on CCR-Fanpages and so on). MOST people will know that you are the true mapper and that is enough I think.

You can also add a plane with your name in gmax/max to the terrain. With that you can show people very quickly that you are the one.
