

---

Subject: Re: DVD Rip To DVD

Posted by AoBfrost on Tue, 11 Sep 2007 22:20:50 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

DVD to DVD is easy, dvd shrink 3.2 is good, it will format many duel layer discs into one single layer without any quality loss, and it is fast, I can copy a 2 hour movie on my PC in 15-20 minutes, I copied a few disney movies for my baby cousins because they like bambie and cinderella and such, and i've copied spiderman for myself as a backup incase i lost it or broke it (i scratch all my discs...) Not all duel layers will work because they like 8gig completely filled, if it's 5-6gig then it will because it doesnt have to do major compressing, but I like it alot.

Oh and you need Nero if you want to burn the disc right afterwards, otherwise, it saves the DVD files to your C:/"dvd name" folder then you could just use any dvd burning software and burn the files dvd shrink produced.

---