If I remember right, I ran in the side door and over to it and tossed the first C4, moved, and that's when it disappeared. Depending on where I was and how I was looking at it, it would show sometimes and disappear others.

BTW, not sure if this matters, but about the Obelisk, I'm using the replacement one that turns it into the one from single player. My Obelisk crystal (the skin for the red tip top) is also different. Those were the things that disappeared from the Obelisk, so I'm not sure if that has something to do with it.
