Heh, if this guy's telling the truth about the suit being the one on G4, it's probably one of the suits made by Nightmare Armor Studios, who have since removed all references to it from their website. I managed to save some of their videos, though. You can find them here.

As for having your own Wolverine, take a look at this.

Edit: @Blazer: if you watch the videos, they took the suits to a convention, and they're also apparently paintball safe.
