Ah - then you'll probably want to play at a trusted server.

I know that the TsuGaming server (which I helped to set up) has no more than the default mani plugin sounds and 2 admin models (one for each team).

Address is 74.86.87.167:27015 - there are few players on usually at this time, but only because few players outside of myself ever try to get the server filled (hopefully going to change soon).

As for the being kicked out: if you're supposedly getting a high ping (according to the server), then you can try to rejoin. Otherwise I don't know what else to say about it.
