OK PLEASE...I REALLY NEED YOUR HELP.

RenGuard is not working for me. I did everything possible and still it is not detected by servers. I think maybe Sterbik's problem maybe contagious.

I have trouble focusing in-game and sniping and even flying my Orca well knowing in the back of my head that RenGuard is not working. I am really...er...frustrated.

I checked everywhere for all possible solutions.

Quote:- Renguard didn't load on your correct nickname: this can occur the first time you launch Renguard or if you play on more than one nickname. The nickname that appears in the Renguard window ("Welcome to RenGuard , Nickname!") must be the same as the one you play with. To change the nickname Renguard loads with, you need to simply connect to a server, then leave the game and restart Renguard.

- Automatic Renegade loading: Renguard needs to finish scanning your files before it loads. If you have checked "automatically load renegade on startup", it could be that it didn't finish scanning your files yet when loading Renegade. To solve this problem, do not check "automatically load renegade on startup" and wait 20 seconds before clicking "Renegade" in the Renguard window.

^ I checked that and did everything possible.

I wonder if there is a problem. It never happened to me before and all of a sudden...the past 1 week or so, RenGuard is not being detected for me. I went to pretty much every server and asked any Moderator present to check if I am running RG; all of them say I am not running it.

I have no firewalls enabled or anything like that.

Also, I have a good wireless internet connection. When I click on Renegade, the Renegade screen comes up and says "Welcome, Starbuzz" or something like that. I then wait like forever and then click Renegade and go online. And the servers say "Starbuzz is NOT running RenGuard."

It's really frustrating for me...RenGuard is my insurance against idiots who may suddenly claim I am making BS shots on them. And I don't feel like playing at all without RG. You never know when some damn stupid idiot will start accusing you and the mods start to suspect you because you are not having RG. That's one of the many reasons I always use RG.

Having said enough, I am in desperate need of your advice! HELP!!

EDIT: I have RenGuard with the latest CP2 updates.
