There is a server called "hide and seek". The server's HOST is a real stupid sissy. I got kicked 3 times with NO reason. I was a nice player, hanging out with the others. We set up a rule that we can't destroy each others vehicle. Everything went fine, then a moron destroyed my tank (he thought it's so much fun ). The HOST saw me that I'm not with the others, didn't had a vehicle and got kicked. The Host is really stupid. Then I went back and asked him about what the hell was he doing, and of course he couldn't gave a normal answer. After that I began playing again. I was on the airport. There were about 5 motors. Everyone took his own except me and another guy. I thought no one will miss a vehicle and took it away. While I was driving the motor I got a message to take the vehicle back to base. At that second I turned back and went back to base. Got banned again. A few weeks later I logged into that server again and got kicked...manually, after a few seconds.

We can't do anything if the host is a two year old.
