I've always liked the Tiberium part of the series more than Red Alert, simply because the idea of "Russians vs The World" has been done too many times in games, movies, books, etc.

RA2 > World in Conflict (blatant stealage)

Mmm...not really. A Soviet invasion has been fodder for entertainment for more than 20 years. Think Red Dawn (1984) and Red Storm Rising (1986). The first Soviet mission of RA2 is even called Operation: Red Dawn.
