@ razor; I don't think that's the Great Wall of China. I know the Wall does not reach any sea...it's in the middle of the Mongolian desert with lots of icy lands to the north. And the Wall is very snakelike in it's curvyness.

Here's a pic of the Wall from space:

It's amazing how camera technology have improved over the decades. Remember the fuzzyness of the Moon missions? Now we get these cool HD pics.
