You are one lucky bastard. Convertable or coupe?

When are those things coming out btw? I thought they were 2008 models so I figured they would be out in summer of 07. I heard somewhere they were releasing them in the winter... Such a beautiful car and horrible release time!

I'm torn, to be honest. I'm not sure if I'd rather put extra money towards a rag-top, or towards some more juice. It'll depend on the engine/tranny options, and any possible kinks that come with new cars.

From what I understand, it'll be debuting in mid/late '08, right on time to compete with the Dodge Challenger, and refreshed Mustang. However, Lutz is pushing to get it out sooner, so we may get lucky.
