I don't get the poll. The topic is "Are we alone," so if I vote yes... would that mean, we are alone? But the poll title is "Alien Life," so if I vote yes, would that mean that I think that aliens exist? o.O

I honestly believe that aliens exist. Though, most likely never visited us, and most likely isn't as advanced as we'd assume.

Quote:The earth is spinning at a nice speed too, if it was just an hour longer we would die. If it was an hour shorter, we would also die. This is because places wouldn't receive enough heat from the sun or places would receive too much.

In another television show, it said that the average day used to last about 12 hours. But slowed down gradually to 24. So I don't know if that's true or not...

Quote:Too old and it would be made of red-giants and they're no good for life. After the big stars explode, the remains usually reform into other stars/planets.

Quote:The earth was hit by a comet at it's creation which contained the amino acids essential for life.

That was just a theory. There are others like we started from the ocean and evolved from that.
