Everything is perfectly aligned and provided and statistically improbable for life to exist to such a ridiculous degree to be an accident.

But you can't mention God doing it!

That would be impossible....

I've always loved that. I'd love to take the odds evolutionist put on us being here all by accident and play them in vegas I'd be so damn wealthy lol.

I'm a Christian who believes there could be life somewhere else. Why not? Bible never said we are the only ones.
