Why is there a god?

Who made god?

God is what?

How old is god?

What was before god?

What started God?

Have fun.

Intelligent answers only please.

If you read the bible, you will find all this out in heaven. It says that your mind can't comprehend it right now on earth, but it will all be explained in the afterlife.

I can write a book that says if you give me 20% of your income, infinite wisdom will come your way because that 20% being donated to me honors God, or some other mystical being, and he/she/it will grant you this wisdom.

Someone can tell me they'll meet me for lunch, but at that moment, I don't know if they really are or not. I could speculate, hope, and trust that they will, but until the moment arrives for that meeting, I won't have the answer.
