Hi, i have been updating my scripts as these new versions came out. However, with each version, my game kept crashing at random moments and its now starting to do my head in!!

With the latest scripts, it usually happens once but if i reload immedaately, it wont crash again until after i have shutdown and restarted the computer the next day. Previously, the problem was with the shaders.dll file. However, with the latest scripts, its now the game.exe.

My most recent crashdump.txt is attached. If you get the chance to look at it and notice anything i can do to sort this out i would be grateful.
