Yeah that's what I told him around 2 weeksa ago. The Tiberian Evolution logo is way too big. It's simple to crop that image and then make both pictures fit on the same line if there similat sizes. Just put two [IMG] tages with no space after each other and they will be on the same line. Crop the big logo to the height of the other one making sure you keep the aspect ratio when you do it. It will save space.
