Crime-son, LOL. 43 year old woman my ass, you probably still live in your parent's basement. The nonexistent anti-cheat you speak of would not benefit anyone if no one could use it. Common-sense comes into play here, something you clearly have none of.

The RenGuard coders are volunteers, they have their own lives to worry about, they do not use all of their time attempting to keep a dying game cheat-free, and shouldn't have to.

Coding an anti-cheat WITHOUT THE SOURCE CODE is one of the most difficult things you can do coding-wise. It's not as easy as you think. Go back to your hole.
