something I'm thinking of doing. Maybe more a topic for the tactics and strategies section, but meh.

Here's my idea... Once a week, I (or a partner in crime cough tunaman) would observe a clanmatch or community match between some top players, and I'd take the role of a "commentator", as if it were a sport... giving strategic analysis, saying why the players are doing what they're doing...

might be useful for players to make observations and improve their knowledge of strategy by seeing the "pros" in action, as well as being kinda fun.
