joroe34 Three people who love the game have had the same experiences in the past week with someone kicking their ass with standard infantry. I read the post from sloppyjo and now pippy007, isn't it strange we have all had the same things happen to us. Further in reading their post - it is obvious we have never ran around before screaming aimbot when we are getting are asses kicked. And like I mentioned in my first post identifying this problem. XG7777 was wiping out skilled players in seconds. Not just me. And I assure you - I have never heard of sloppyjo or pippy 007 before they posted.

Java, kirby, general havoc, crimson et all... please please please reassure me that there is no known cheat for renegade!

There aren't.

I have seen some wierd stuff out there every once in awhile due to graphics engine failures, and lag.

Just chalk it up to "Renegade Charm" and enjoy cliff walking, hiding in walls, zero-bugs, mega player kills on game entry, and the mammy flip when there isn't a rock for miles to hit.
