Enevitably you'll sign up to one of those physic sites or an on-line gambling site. You'll pay your dollar thinking great, one step closer to my ps3. But the small print of that third party site will say you have to pay a cancellation fee of 30 dollars, or at least enroll for 6 months at 10 dollars a month, or something really gay like that.

Don't do it troop, you will get scammed eventually, or end up making your friends/family/on-line pals get scammed.

Thats what I was thinking, you pay 7$ right now, but once the "trial" is over, you get auto charged fully. Looked into the T.O.S on both the official site and 3rd party sponser sites, and they can't legally even keep your credit card information on file after the x amount of trial period you signed up for, so that won't happen either. The ONLY thing im worried about is getting them done before the busy xmas holiday season, best case, they would have primary dibbs on PS3's but @ $399, they gonna sell like hot cakes, buying 1 from the store is even out of the question for me in my area
