while playing the sims i encountered this problem, what if we are a plaything of some mad dood making us do random thingys? and what if we are in the matrix? if we were, then the machines would have controll over everything that exists in the matrix, and would never allow the movie to exist, thus eliminating any suspicion of its existance. thus we wouldnt know about it, and this thread wouldnt exist, and so it cant be real, unless the machines know we will think this way, and realease the movie to make us think they never would do it, and so *train of thought crashes into the sputnik* DAMN YOU A.D.D!!!!
