Well Recon, you again fail to see the whole picture.

Your short sight has always let you hold stigmas and you often judge a situation on only half the facts, and do not seem to be willing to know all the facts.

Too bad you are banned at the forums, and I will not unban you.
But just ask anyone to visit this link and confirm what it says there:
<http://www.renz0r-gaming.com/forum/showthread.php?t=2290>

What it says there is the idea of a coop clan.

As the date of that post shows, this was way before you or dreganius came with the idea.

Now I understand the misunderstanding in ts when you started to tell me about your ideas of a coop clan.

I was like

[WTF, I let him create a CSS clan, and you do shit with it cause you have "not enough time"
But you DO have enough time to steal my ideas and try to screw that up too!]

That was why I got so mad, but you thought you/dreg made the coop clan thing up.

At the time you said this, I was already in dialog with the current leaders of the coop clan.

Maybe I am selfish when I blame this on you, cause you failed to read and listen in ts (where this was discussed in your presence plenty of times).

You should have read the forums, it is a duty of an admin to know what is going on.

But selfish or not, I don't give a shit in your case, cause it is you.

In your case I don't really feel the responsibility to act nice and out of honor and justice.

You try to pin this on me, yet you refuse to accept any responsibility of what you did to us.

At that admin thing/: you make a lousy admin, cause you are not a team player.

You rarely listen, you rarely communicated.

Everytime something changed or was different (server settings, bot change, shit online, shit offline) and we asked you afterwards it turned out you did it and did not communicate what you did.

You were a solitary bee in a hive. That doesn't work.

But that was the one thing I just kept forgiving you for your shit as I hoped that was something you would learn eventually.

Too bad you seemed to ignorant and stubborn to want to learn this.

Add to that you are very valueless.

One example I have not even mentioned in your n00bfile, but that gives another plain example:
You payed for our radi0 license.

We move webserver and you get banned and all that.

Then webhost asks me if I want the shoutcast radio installed in my control panel.

Although it is free to use, I considered that stealing from you.

Even though this license is global for that webserver, you payed it.

And if I wanted to use it, I wanted to pay you back what you spend on it.
Cause obviously, you aint gonna use it anymore.

So I mail you and tell you I will send you the money for the radi0 license as I intend to set the radi0 back up.

You mail me back saying, I could keep it if I wanted.

But I am a value kinda guy, and you know this.

So I send you the money for it back (30 USD) via Paypal.

Next thing you do is open a radi0 station on your tiberium-planet site.

Nowhere did you say to me that you were gonna use it too.

We could have split the money.

Sure, you can say it was stupid of me to send you that money after what you've done.

But at least I can sleep at night and don't have to worry that my soul will end up in hell.

For you I am not sure.

Honesty is something you are incapable of.

Next to that you are unable to reflect on yourself.

All you do is try to get back at me.

And why? Have you really convinced yourself you did nothing wrong and that all is to blame on me?

If so, you really need help.

Cause that giant post on renz0r about you (of which I mailed you the content, so you can read it still even though your banned <-- another value of mine) there is only truth and nothing but the truth. I have an entire community that can and will confirm this!

Normally I would not stray to your level.

But in this case I just did not see why not.

You attacked me personally and you attacked the renz0r community.

You deserve that people know what you did.

And the siggy and hatemail contest?

Well I just had to get this out of my system.

I honestly really hate you, and take pleasure in your suffering.

It doesn't make me a bad person, it just makes me human.

Anyone would feel that way if they got toyed with like you tried to toy with me and renz0r.

And since your email to me involved somekind of scenario where I got raped by my mother and therefor had to take it out on you, that's just the kind of thing you can expect back.

You play with fire, you risk getting burned.

Now all you can do is tell people on msn I am lying.

I hereby swear that all I have told about this is the god honest truth and nothing less!

Oh and edit: I appreciate that people ask him to give the domain back, but we don't need it.

We are Renz0r.net now and Renz0r-Gaming.com

He wants this domain so bad? He can keep it.

Stick it where the sun don't shine Recon.
