In over all, the ps3 and xbox have sold more than that already in just a few months. Wait.. did you just support the Wii or go against it?

You said that the Wii has sold 350,000 units TODAY.

Then you said both the PS3 and 360 have sold more than that in a few months...

Doesn't that mean that the Wii sold more in a day that both the PS3 and 360 could sell in a few months?!
