You and Lone need to grow the fuck up. Its not my fault you both were in sexually abusing homes and feel the need for a 2nd childhood. The rest of us pay taxes so you can go whine to some proffesional about your many problems, and not draw cartoons at the age of 10+. Thanks.

Cartoons and Anime are 2 different things. Yes they are made the same, but Anime is more specific in how it is made, what goes into it, drawing style, also many people say that it has to be from Japan, but I don't believe that. (Afro Samurai, Avatar, Teen Titans)

It all depends on your tastes. If you just say you don't like Anime and that is it, than you're not being truthful.

By saying you don't like any and all forms of Anime is exactly the same as saying I don't like to watch TV. Which may be true in some cases, but in this case I don't think so.

However, I think your basing your argument off of cartoons made in English, like Loony Toons, Tom and Jerry, Spongebob, ect. Those are COMPLETELY different. The only similarities is that they are made with drawings... that is about it..

And you also said, to which I already responded, "Cartoons for adults, grow up"

So what about Cartoons like Family Guy, South Park, The Simpsons, King of the Hill?

Yes, yes it does.
