SmittyLV wrote on Sun, 09 December 2007 19:18 Look I like messing around sometimes like everyone else. But sometimes I just want to go in professionally... you know what I mean? I mean I want a team that will take orders from a designated commander. With that said, one great thing NOBODY uses is the Teams Concept. Diving troops into Assault Team (Usually goes in and takes down defenses, does various goals, and is the workhorse of Renegade) and Fire Team (Usually provides cover or is a back-up team). I mean think about it.. would'nt it be more likely to win with an organized force? Tell me what you think....

ever heard of a clan war, douchebag?

this game's been out for years, there is no way you haven't.
