Yeah. Vista works fine on Quad cores @ 3.0 Ghz with 2GB of RAM. You need to either -

A) Use XP

B) Find all of Vista's glossy interfacce options and set them all to low detail, that should help.

Also, as you're using Vista, if you have a USB 2.0 flash disk, and USB 2.0 ports, plug the flash disk in, and have Vista use it as ReadyBoost, that should speed up Vista slightly.
