
Subject: Re: Sadukar09

Posted by BlueThen on Thu, 10 Jan 2008 21:30:28 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

MWright967' wrote on Wed, 09 January 2008 22:43

2. to think about something unceasingly or persistently; dwell obsessively upon something. Interesting.....So they define the word "Obsessed" with "Obsessively"....I thought that wasn't possible? Oh, right. It isn't. However, a minor infraction I suppose.

Lets see...

To "dwell obsessively upon something". Now lets see, by your definition Obsessive means: To DOMINATE the thoughts, feelings, and DESIRES of someone. Now lets see what "Dwell" means:

"to linger over, emphasize, or ponder in thought, speech, or writing (often fol. by on or upon): to dwell on a particular point in an argument."

Hold on, now lets look at "Dominate":

1. to rule over; govern; control.
2. to tower above; overlook; overshadow: A tall pine dominated the landscape.
3. to predominate, permeate, or characterize.

Ahhhh! I see now. Okay, so apparently what your saying is this:

Obsessive means: To CONTROL the desires, feelings, and thoughts of someone.

Now, I'm no genius, but I'd kind of say that if something else is controlling you, and to become obsessed, I wouldn't say YOU are in control. Oh, and hey, that 3rd definition is interesting, "characterize". So it characterizes you. You are characterized by your obsession. Oh and hey, lets not forget Dwell. Apparently you linger on the obsession and constantly bring it up. Gee, what is this starting to sound like? It sounds like someone may not be in control of their actions, thoughts, feelings, or desires.

Sorry Blue, but you fail on this one bro

So... is everything you pull out from between your bloated face cheeks concentrated bull-shit?
