No, I just find it funny. I'm obviously correct you don't want to admit it.

I think you're being a bit "Obsessive".

That's one of the most ignorant and stubborn things I've read so far. Tell me, how the fuck are you right?

Because from your example, Obsessive means "Something else controls your desires, feelings, and thoughts". In other words, YOU don't have control over those. Something your "obsessed" with does.

Look, its okay to be wrong. Just give it up.
