You might be happier with a Pocket PC though. Many have expandable memory, and you can do more with them, like write down notes quickly, use GPS, and play lots of games, and of course, browse the internet using Wireless Internet.

They usually cost about 500+ though don't they?

Depends a bit on model.

I know that here you can get the HTC Touch for around 300 euros incl. taxes (19% tax on it sox)
