It has been known rg has been bypassed for a while. Still no updates since then. If you suspect someone to be cheating in your server, and they are running RG. Do you trust it? Do you continue to let them play?

I don't trust RenGuard 100%. I don't trust anything 100%, really. That would be silly.

However, if I have two equally suspicious players, and one is running RG and the other is not, I'm apt to believe that there is a higher likelihood that the one not running RG is cheating compared to the one that is.
