Then why are you asking for a fps fix?

You cant fix crappy stuff, crappy stuff will remain crappy stuff.

You had this bug before this videocard.

A good pc is not cheap, I would place a vacation also above a new pc. Especially a friend above the pc.

But first your re-read the post. You wasted 400 Euro's mayby even more. -> 60x52 = 3120 euro for drinks and such. Well I think that is high placed. (you mentioned this 60 yourself)

Lets say you go out for 20 bucks a day that makes 40 a week
40x52=2080 euro lets say you only go out once a week -> 1040 euro

You save up 1040 euro!!! Or more if you drink less.

Common we did this before and you just dont listen.

About that Yer Old Bud. Well cant you think why I type that?

Summary ->

You stole the renz0r domain.

You called me a backtalker.

You hacked the Renz0r staff forums thinking it was full with posts about you.

You werent allowing Reckneya and me to have a private chat, you where always in the understanding we where going to talk about you. (I must admit in some casses we needed to talk over you especially in at the end)

You posted false advertisements of the nitro mod.

You make advertisements about your maps and that they would be in the nitro.

You are now trying to be a concurent of Renz0r.

You where making a map and tried to shove it of yourself that I would fix it. Jeez man the Reborn mod is lucky to have you as mapper.

You posted fake and wrong screenies of the nitro mod how could i be nice for that, you even didnt tell me you where advertising about it.

You are not a sportif loser.

The biggest reason of those is -> You where making a map and tried to shove it of yourself that I would fix it.

You made a map hmmz It think it was called C&C_Moarth.

I agreed to help you on the shrine and communications center.

You thought after some time, well now it is ready. It wasn't I bet you didn't even look in the map.

You had no pcts in the commcenter it was even not welled correctly in the map you covered it with sandbags which are visible inside the commcenter.

You could drive over the shrine of nod with a buggy

You could walk of the bottom of the map.

You could jump out of the barracks so you died in blue hell

The Middle of the map was barren/deserted/empty check back in the post you posted on this forums.

You claimed that Level-edit crashed so you couldn't make the building controller.

How hard is it to make a building controller Temp another one and add in the part of meshprefix mshn^

How can I finish parts of that map if you aren't finished? Your Renx work wasn't over, you were merely started. First finish Renx and then continue to LE and then I would help you on a few parts and not fixing the map?

Then you said in a e-mail to Reckneya -> Hey Reaver didn't finish things also.

The thing I didn't finish was 'your' map.

Hey, wait a sec YOUR map that means you have got to fix the most of it not ME!

The only thing that map had was well it looked pretty good. The water was good and the sand had a nice touch.

But the gameply Renx? Teamed humvees? Teamed Buggys?

I thought it was going to be an infantry map.

You don't listen to me!!! How should I call that a friend?

Oh wait I got a better one. We were on the renz0r ts + Reckneya to.

You said: -> Well it is impossible to have/make friends over the internet.

Mayby it is for you.

And from that day I was never your friend you claimed it yourself.

Well and then some more I remember days we where playing Command and conquer 1. After each game you were so pissed because you could never win. Even when you catured my conyard you couldn't win.

You where always so pissed. I remember talking over this to Reckneya.

What Reck said wasnt surprising -> He mentioned that you where yelling about me and such after each game.

Well be sportif would you, and dont be a lame backstalker.
You never won in cnc1.

Antoher nice example, you bought css for me because I finished school, this is actually the bestest you ever did for me and Im grateful for that. I will never orget this.

Only in most games it went out different. I remember a gungame match we had on our very own server. We were both in ts. I was leading in the game i was at the supershotung or whatever the name is.

You kept walking infront of me trying to get some kills eventually this ended up me in killing you. I lost a level. The you mister smarty pants thought hmzzz a friend killed me. A what the matter just kill him.

nice and sportif Recon

I left that game you discovered it pretty late and couldnt find of a reason.

There you have it a whole story about you as main character.

So instead of posting a question think within yourself why someone would think that.

Wasnt there anything inside you that knew or could think of why I would post -> Yer Old Bud Reaver

I do not hate, it is possible te become friends again only I doubt you can make it. For the simple reason you just bent the truth that your story is correct.

You can never see more than your own truth. You cant even look farther than your own nose.

Next time try to think of what will happen when you do an action.

Mayby we meet in better times but for now, think what you have done wrong think within yourself and go at once to the other person claiming he or she is wrong.

Just as you did in the other posts on this forum.

READ THE WHOLE POST RECON,

I know you good enough that you will just scroll down to the end.
It is sad that i have to type this out for you and that you cant think of this yourself.

I hope you think very deep inside youself about yourself.

We had nice times and bad times. The trouble is that you cant review your bad moments which makes friendship impossible.

And read the compleet reply.
Not just this little bottom with my name.

Now goodbye Recon,

Yer Old Bud Reaver
