oh by the way you can't compair Blizzard with EA
that's like apples and bananas.

EA listened to the fans when they've developed Kane's wrath.
So why not try ?

I know 200 isn't much , but that's the goal for now.
besides we're the ones who's buying this, the players, so why shouldn't our opinions matter ?

It's like your saying that you want to give up on the freedom of speech to the dictatorship of this corperation.

Or we're just content with letting this company develop their game however the hell they want.
God knows, C&C is EA's bitch. That doesn't stop me from loving C&C, though.

Whatever they do, I'm behind it. Command and Conquer is Command and Conquer. If they want to go squad-tactical, so be it. And I think the rest of the community needs to realize that some things just don't work in squad tactical games. C&C Mode is apparently one of them.
