Alright, so basically you have been on the brink of suicide because you get shit on ingame, by anyone remotely tied to cw.cc? K.

Exactly. That's exactly it. My life is so tied to this game, that whenever I lose, I crank up Taking Back Sunday, and sit in the bath-tub, and run the blade right up the highway.

This coming from a guy who has his own clan, a guy who desperately hangs around the clanwars 'smak' forums, who claims he tested a map before it was even created, a rene-tool who will talk total bullshit only to dodge 1v1's issued to him.

This is also coming from a clown who will take a screenie of him winning by a meager amount of points in a game, and then mysteriously leaving, just as his competitors' artillery unit is sweetly positioned in front of the WF ready to take the game.

If anything, you're the one who is going to kill himself over a crappy video-game.

As for you being a better player... uh yeah... you are. Great job buddy, you can point, and click faster than me. I bet you can roll over, and sit, and beg faster than me too.
